Theater Arts Camp

The Educational Theatre Company (ETC) offers three weeks of camp for ages 8-16. Instructors invite families to view campers performances. Times will be announced. Registration closes the Friday before the start of each session.

Radio Drama and Acting Bootcamp

July 30-August 3

382101-G

In this session the campers will write and produce their own live radio shows using professional PA equipment, common household materials for live sound effects, and their own voices. They will be involved in all aspects from conception to performance. Additionally, campers will learn the techniques behind auditioning, what goes into casting a show, and how to stage a short play in this intensive course of Acting Bootcamp.

Fundamentals of Improvisation and Slapstick

August 6-10

382101-H

During this session, campers will learn the basic techniques to perform character sketches and improvisations on their feet, in the moment. Campers will also spend part of the time working on developing basic physical comedy skills. From the madcap to the zany, campers will experience many styles of comedy to help find their individual comedic style.

Improvisation for Performance and Acting Bootcamp

August 13-17

382101-I

During this final week, campers will again participate in a week of production-oriented activities (see above Acting Bootcamp description for details) as well as developing their improvisational skills at a "performance-oriented" level. Improvised "sketch comedy" will be more complex, narrative and structurally, and will emphasize confident interaction with the audience. Campers participating in this session must attend the second week of the camp or have prior ETC camp experience. The program director will consider other theatre experience in fulfilling the prerequisite as well. Contact ETC at 703-271-0222 ext 5.
